

Historica Fair Project

Title: Inuit Carvings

Written by: Jolene Manik and Amber Schaubroeck

Grade: 7-A

Qitqliq Middle School

Arviat, Nunavut

April 2009

Describe your project: Our project is about Inuit Carvings. It looked at the soapstone, antler, serpentine, ivory, and whale bone carvings. Our board is full of pictures, and we brought in our own carvings from home to display at the heritage fair at our school. We used general questions that normal people in Arviat would use.

What did you find out as a result of your research? We learned that Inuit carvings are really interesting. Wall hangings and carvings all tell a great story. Some people make wall hangings and carvings just for fun. But most people make wall hangings and carvings to tell stories and for the artistic passion, for them it is a serious art form. The carvings are not just important for Inuit they are also important to people all over the world.

